English - support for Year 11 students

Weekly homework

Year 11 students are currently being set regular quote learning alongside revision activities to help them to prepare for the November mocks. Learning quotes is a key part of the exam preparation process as it helps them to get to know the texts really well and ensures they have evidence from a range of key moments to support their analysis in Literature essays. We assess quotes each week through a combination of online quizzes and games and mini tests in school.

After Christmas, students will continue with weekly quote learning but will also be set a Revision Challenge each week. These consist of weekly timed exam practice which will be set on one component of the course to check understanding and improve exam skills and stamina. Every Monday we will deliver a Revision Challenge lesson which will reteach the key skills for that component. The homework task will be due in on Wednesday of the same week. The task will be available on ClassCharts from the Friday before to allow students more flexibility for completing it if they feel confident with the task. Feedback will be provided every week to address areas for development. It is really important that students complete this under their typical exam conditions; if students are entitled to extra time in exams, the timings should be adjusted. Please encourage phones to be in a different room. Students should hand write their answer unless they have a laptop in exams.

Revision sessions

These will continue to run on a Thursday from 3-4pm and will focus on different aspects of both English Language and English Literature. All students are welcome to attend. The library is also open on Monday to Thursday afternoons 3-4pm if students wish to complete their homework revision challenge in school or need a quiet space for revision. After Christmas we will also put on some Masterclass sessions for students who are aiming for grades 7 to 9 to support a more conceptualised understanding of the Literature texts.

Massolit

<https://massolit.io/>

This is an online platform which has lots of short video lectures on the set texts and on some other aspects of English Language from university lecturers and specialists. It is a great place to explore for students who want to broaden their knowledge and interpretations of the texts and for those interested in progressing on to English Language or English Literature A level. Students can login with their school email address to access our subscription.

Loom video guides and recorded lessons

How to video guides have been made for each question from the English Language papers. If students feel insecure with how to answer a question, this would be a great starting point.

HOW MANY OF THESE TYPES OF SENTENCE CAN YOU INCLUDE IN YOUR OPINION WRITING?

Some; others sentences

Examples:

Some people love football; others just can't stand it.

Some days are full of enjoyment; others begin and end terribly.

Rule: Some; others sentences are compound sentences which begin with the word some and have a semi-colon to replace the word but.

Imagine 3 examples:

Examples: Imagine a place where the sun always shines, where wars never happen, where no-one ever dies: in the Andromeda 5 system, there is such a planet.

Rule: Sentence begins with

- The word 'imagine'
- Then describes three parts of something
- The first two parts are separated by commas
- The third ends with a colon

Irony

Examples:

- Our 'luxury' hotel turned out to be a farm outbuilding.
- With dawn breaking, the 'beautiful view' which the brochure described, revealed itself to be a scrap-yard and a rubbish tip.
- The 'trip of our dreams' was, in fact, our worst nightmare.

Rule:

An irony sentence deliberately overstates how good or bad something is. The overstated word is then shown to be false through the remainder of the sentence which reveals the truth.

3 bad - (dash) question?

Examples:

Cold, dark, airlessness – which would kill the spaceman first?

Greed, jealousy, hatred – which of these is most evil?

Rule: 3 negative adjectives followed by a dash then a question which relates to the 3 adjectives.

NOUN, which, who, where

Examples:

- Snakes, which scare me, are not always poisonous.
- My pet dog, who only has three legs, loves to chase seagulls.
- The deserted beach, where the shipwreck was found, can only be reached by sea.

Rule:

Use commas to embed a clause in a sentence, add information that links with the sentence topic and start the clause with which, who or where.

All the Ws

Examples:

Would there ever be another opportunity like this one?

Who would take over his role now?

What if you had all of the money in the world?

Why do zebras have stripes?

Rule:

Your short sentence must start with one of the following W words:
Who? What? When? Where? Why? Would? Was? Will? What if?

2Ad

Examples:

- a) Mr Twit was a dirty, horrible man with long, soggy spaghetti in his beard.
- b) It was a sparse, dry desert with a calming, exotic oasis in the distance.

Rule: A 2Ad sentence has TWO adjectives before the first noun and TWO adjectives before the second noun. This sentence creates a clear picture for the reader.

3_ed

Examples:

Confused, shocked, scared, the children ran from the burning building!

Excited, elated, thrilled, she won the dance competition.

Rule:

A 3_ed sentence starts with three adjectives, that end in _ed and describe emotions. The _ed words MUST be followed by commas.

2 pairs

Examples:

Exhausted and worried, cold and hungry, they did not know how much further they had to go.

Rule: Begins with two pairs of related adjectives. Each pair is:

- followed by a comma
- separated by and

De:De

Examples:

I was exhausted: I hadn't slept for more than two days.

Rule: A Description: Detail or De:De sentence is a

- A compound sentence in which two independent clauses are separated by a colon
- The first clause is descriptive
- The second adds further detail

Verb, person

Examples:

- a. Running, Sarah almost tripped over her own feet.
- b. Tiptoeing, he tried to sneak out across the landing without waking anybody up.

Rule: A sentence starts with a verb to give it more importance. The verb is always followed by a comma and then a name or personal pronoun (he, she, they, it) followed by the rest of the sentence.

Emotion word, (comma)

Examples:

Desperate, she screamed for help.

Terrified, he froze instantly to the spot.

Happily, she skipped along the gravely path.

Rule: Emotion first followed by the actions that are caused by the emotion. Putting the word first gives more weight to the emotion. When teaching produce an A-Z list of emotions the children could use (e.g: Afraid, Brave, Cantankerous etc.)

Ad, same ad

Examples:

He was a fast runner, fast because he needed to be.

It was a cold planet, cold due to the distance from the sun.

Rule: Same adjective used twice. The second adjective repeated straight after a comma.

ing, _____ ed

Examples:

- Dancing in the studio, she watched in the mirror as a ghost appeared.
- Skipping along the street, he stopped abruptly when a car screeched past.

Rule:

The sentence must begin with a verb ending in 'ing' followed by a location of the action

Upgrade Your Sentence!	Simile start The boy's grubby face was flecked with mud and oil, like beard stubble across his young face.	Triple noun colon Dirt, oil, grease: the boy's face was smeared with his grubby work of the day.
Brackets although The boy's face looked grubby (although, it wasn't as if he wasn't trying to keep clean) and grease, mud and oil was smeared across his cheeks.	The boy looked grubby.	Adverb comma Self-consciously, the boy gave a wry smile through the grub on his face.
so, so The boy's face was so grubby, so filthy, it wasn't until he turned his head and smiled that I realised he was a boy at all.	it isn't/it is The grub isn't just your ordinary every day dirt, it is layers of deep grime that needed to just washed but scrubbed away.	Verb beginning Smiling sadly, the boy's face was just about visible through the layers of grub that had built up over not just hours- but days and weeks.

Unseen Poetry

Lit Paper 2 Section C

50 mins

2 compulsory questions:

- Essay response to one unseen poem (24 marks)
- Comparative response to a second unseen poem (8 marks)

28.1:

You will get a short unseen poem that you haven't studied before. The question will ask you about how an idea / theme is presented.

You need to write an essay that analyses the meaning, language and structure of the poem.
35 mins

Top tips for reading unseen poems:

- Read to the punctuation marks not the end of the lines.
- Work out the key ideas first – be logical, take it bit by bit.
- Remember to look for language techniques and how it is structured and explain the effect.
- Look for possible alternative interpretations.

When in doubt, think:
WHAT?
HOW?
WHY?
